

Please do not make it easier for big business to control television, newspapers and radio. We already have corporate crooks running the government, at least until the next election. We definitely don't need more of their broadcast b. s. telling us how wonderful they are.

The Cheney administration already bends the truth to the point of ridiculous disbelief with disinformation and unmitigated gall. We sure don't need more of the same. Keep the limits for owning and controlling markets to preserve the diversity that has made this country great. If we continue on the road of big corporations running everything, freedom will rapidly go out the window. We are already on the road to becoming another third world country with the crooks stealing from their own stockholders and employees. More control by fewer big companies will result in no middle class.

Thank you for your consideration.
